

“All I can say is I have taken more out of alcohol than alcohol has taken out of me”

– Sir Winston Churchill

COCKTAILS

LADY SOAMES | 26

1919 pineapple gin, frangelico, almond syrup, lime juice, coconut cream clarification, carbonation

Mary Churchill, the youngest of Winston Churchill's children, was a prominent author and public figure. She wrote extensively on her father's life and legacy, contributing to the preservation of his memory. Mary Churchill later became known as "Lady Soames" after her marriage.

THE RIGA OFFENSIVE | 26

stolichnaya vodka, peach infused matawhero gewurztraminer, english breakfast tea, citric acid, carbonation

The Riga Offensive was part of the Baltic Offensive during World War II in late 1944. Its aim was to drive German forces from the city of Riga and recapture the Baltic states, including Latvia, from German occupation. Following the successful offensive, Latvia remained under Soviet occupation until regaining its independence in 1991.

THE ROYAL MINT | 26

cachaca, crème de cacao blanc, citric acid

Winston Churchill's image and legacy have been commemorated on various coins and medals produced by the Royal Mint. For instance, in 1965, a commemorative crown coin was issued to honor Churchill's life and leadership. Additionally, in 2015, a silver coin was issued to mark the 50th anniversary of Churchill's death, featuring his portrait.

WIMBLEDON 1946 | 26

1919 pink gin, pimm's, strawberry syrup, lemon juice, cream clarification, foamee

The 1946 Wimbledon Championships carried immense significance in the tennis world, serving as a symbol of the resurgence of international sports competitions and a return to normalcy following the tumultuous years of World War II. Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, Wimbledon had experienced a total of ten cancellations since its inception in 1877. These interruptions occurred during both World War I and World War II, reflecting the global challenges and conflicts that affected the event's regular schedule.

melon spiked rockburn stolen kiss rose, choya yuzu umeshu, rose water, soda water

Tokyo Bay was the location where the formal surrender of Japan took place on September 2, 1945, aboard the USS Missouri (BB-63), a U.S. Navy battleship. The surrender ceremony marked the official end of World War II in the Pacific. However, the initial Japanese surrender took place on August 15, 1945, after the atomic bombs had been dropped.

T. R. STEVENSON | 26

minted grappa, rinomato aperitivo, yellow chartreuse, prosciutto

Latin teacher, Mr. T.R. Stevenson. Stevenson taught Churchill Latin at St. George's School in Ascot, where young Winston received his early education. While Winston Churchill was not particularly fond of Latin at that time, his education, including his Latin studies, played a significant role in shaping his intellectual development and, eventually, his career in politics and leadership.

OPERATION MARKET GARDEN | 26

jenever, aperol, red pepper water, citric acid

Winston Churchill was involved in the planning of Operation Market Garden, a major Allied military operation in September 1944. This operation aimed to liberate the southern Netherlands and secure key bridges. Although it had mixed success, the effort demonstrated the commitment of the Allies to freeing Dutch territory from German occupation.

IVANOE BANOMI | 26

olmeca altos reposado tequila, mozzarella carpano bianco, tomato & basil consommé, citric acid, chili oil

In June 1944, amidst the turbulence of World War II, Ivanoe Bonomi took the helm of the Italian government. His leadership was pivotal as Italy underwent significant transformations during the Allied forces' liberation from Mussolini's rule. Bonomi skillfully navigated a complex landscape, balancing the diverse interests of political factions and Allied powers while reshaping Italy's direction.

LORD ISMAY | 26

glenfiddich 12 scotch whisky, salted drambuie, orange blossom water

During World War II, Ismay served as a key military advisor to Prime Minister Winston Churchill. He held the rank of Major-General and worked closely with Churchill as his Chief of Staff. In this role, Ismay played a crucial part in coordinating and advising on military matters.

JOHN G. WINANT | 26

woodford rye whiskey, cynar, crème de violette, lemon bitters

John G. Winant was appointed as the United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom in 1941. He took up this post during a crucial period in history, as the United States had not yet entered World War II, and the UK was under the leadership of Winston Churchill.

ROMEO Y JULIETA | 26

sir winston gin, benriach smoky 10 scotch whisky, glayva, honeyed aloe vera, juniper bitters

Winston Churchill's passion for cigars, especially Romeo y Julieta Cuban cigars, wasn't merely a personal preference; it was a defining element of his public image and leadership. His cigars served as an iconic symbol of his resolute leadership during World War II, frequently seen in the corridors of power and during critical decision-making moments, symbolizing his unwavering determination.

SPITFIRE | 26

la travesia mezcal, dom benedictine, cocchi rosa, boston bitters

The Spitfire played a critical role in the Battle of Britain, a pivotal air campaign in 1940, where it, along with the Hawker Hurricane, defended Britain against the German Luftwaffe. After the war, in the late 1940s, Mexico purchased a number of ex-RAF Spitfires and used them for air defense and training purposes.
